Not viewing correctly in IE8? PC pt2

Posted by outersquare - 2010/08/23 04:54

Hey everyone.

I apologise for a double post but I'm not sure whether my reply (and question) to my original post would be recognised as a question?

Anyway, I applied the script to my website and my menu is now inline and looks perfect in IE8. Except the drop down text isn't showing?
The drop down menu items are there, as you can click them, but the text isn't visable?

My website is http://www.outersquare.com.au/loveangels

Thank you very much, and again I apologise for the double up! I would just like to have this sorted for my client soonish! Thank you again.

Hello,

Cufon is used on your site with the menu and we suppose problem with this script, unfortunately we don't have a time to investigate this specific issue now.

ARI Soft
