Hi,

I use AriQuiz only for logged in users. My users are teachers with there pupils.

Now every teacher and pupil has a own account. When a teacher want to see the Quiz Results of one of his pupils he has to log in with the account of this specific user.

I would like to have a possibility for one user (the teacher) too see the quiz results of a selected number of other users (the pupils).

Maybe something in the backend where I can select one user as a teacher and a number other users as pupils. In the frontend when the teacher logs in with his own account he can see the quiz results of all his pupils.

Thanks,
Marsm

PS I think AriQuiz is a briljant component! Thanks!
