
How do I alter css styles?

Posted by yorkweb - 2009/02/11 13:16

Hi

I wish to alter some of the text styling in the tab and the accordion modules but cant find the style sheets anywhere...
how do I make these amendments?

Thanks

Mike

Hello,

CSS for tab and accordion is located in /plugins/content/arismartcontent/system/ari_jquery_ui_loader/js/1.5.2/themes/smoothness/smoothness.all.css . But we are recommended to create CSS Template in CSS Templates section and place your CSS Rule there. Also you can generate your own theme with help jQuery themeroller <http://jqueryui.com/themeroller/> (But choose 'jQuery UI 1.5 Users' option).

thanks for the quick response once again

Please could you clarify exactly how I alter the styling. Do I have to enter the existing rules with the amendments or create completely new rules and reference them inline when describing the module content?

You can create new CSS Template in 'CSS Templates' section of ARI Smart Content and type in it rules with the amendments. This CSS Template will automatically loaded with help 'ARI CSS Loader' plugin.
In other words, for example, you place in CSS template the following code:

.ui-accordion-header
  /* Your new and overridden CSS property comes here */
  font-size: 150%;

if you want change '.ui-accordion-header' CSS class.

Thanks

I followed these instructions and created a new style for .ui-tabs-panel and set the font size to 10px. It didn't make any difference to the page although when I look in firebug I can see the style has been recognised but overridden by the original as defined in the style sheet itself.

Try the following code, please:

.ui-tabs-panel
    font-size: 10px !important;
