Smart Content vs. Data Tables
Posted by wkirspel - 2013/03/11 15:25

What is the relationship between ARI Smart Content ($35) and ARI Smart Content Data Table Pack ($25) and ARI Data Tables ($15).

I purchased Smart Content ($35). But I see references in responses in the Data Table section to configuration type screens that I can't find with Smart Content.

Confused! :-)

"ARI Smart Content: DataTable Pack" contains only plugin which are used for working with tables and database from "ARI Smart Content".

"ARI Data Tables" is a module which can show data from database and CSV files using different table and graph/charts widgets. "ARI Data Tables" and "ARI Smart Content" are two different extensions.

So if I purchase ARI Data Tables I can configure a copy of the ARI Data Table module with a name like MyDataTable. And then create an Article and do a {loadmodule MyDataTable} to display a Joomla SQL Table?

You can load "ARI Data Tables" module into an article using "Content - ARI Data Tables" plugin from "ARI Data Tables" package. Sample plugin code:

{aridatatables moduleId="MODULE_ID"}{/aridatatables}

Where MODULE_ID is ID of "ARI Data Tables" which you want to load. The module should be enabled. For example if want to load "ARI Data Tables" module with ID equals to 18, use the following code:

{aridatatables moduleId="18"}{/aridatatables}

It is also possible to use "Content - Load Module" standard Joomla! plugin to load modules into articles. You can read about it here.
