
IE7 issues

Posted by oorzaak - 2011/03/08 20:33

Hi there,

I tried ARI YUI Menu and after some css tweaking it seems to work fine on most browsers. However, on IE7 it has several issues:

- the submenu appears but it is semi transparent, showing the content of the page through the submenu box;
- if you try to click a submenu item, the submenu box disappears.

I'll send an email with the archived web page attached as soon as I've posted this forum message, and I'll mention the forum topic number in the mail.

Cheers, Frits

Hello,

About background problem, add the next CSS rules:

```
DIV.main-left
  z-index: 10;
}
```

```
DIV.main-center
{
  z-index: 1;
}
```

Regarding to another problem, we suppose this problem with your custom rules and site template styles, you can investigate it with help IE DevToolbar addon for IE 7 browser.

Hi there and thanks for your help. I added the css rules and it solved both problems at once. I'll write some words about your great service in the joomla.org extensions section.

Hi, unfortunately a new IE7 issue came about. When a submenu box is open and I move the mouse over the items in this box, the box sometimes disappears suddenly. It seems to me that this happens when some menu items have much shorter names than the surrounding items. Are there any tricks to prevent this? Again, this happens in IE7 only.

Hello,

We can suggest to use IEDevToolbar addon that investigate this issue. It seems this is a problem with site template styles.

I have the same problem. Please see <http://earthians.org>

I installed the IEDevToolbar but cannot figure out the problem.

The submenu background is transparent only in IE7. It works fine in Chrome, Firefox, Safari and IE8, but not in IE7.

Can you help?
