
Menu loses formatting in position1(beeZ5 template)

Posted by emS313 - 2011/05/17 18:54

Hi. I'm trying to use this menu on my site that is using the beeZ5 template. I would like the menu to show up either directly above or below the header image. Right now it's in position-1 and for some reason is on the top of the page with no formatting.

If I put the menu in the breadcrumb position it works fine.

Any thoughts? I've searched the forums but can't find this specific issue.

I'm currently running the site locally, here is a screen-shot of what the menu looks like.

Hello,

If you can't provide link to page where we can see the problem, send page files of the page with the menu by email. This process is described here.

I just sent the files via email. Thanks again!

You have sent incorrect files. We don't need Joomla! archive. Open a page with the menu in a browser and save page files in browser. This process is described here.

Add the next CSS rules:

#header .yuimenu ul li a:link,
#header .yuimenu ul li a:visited
{
  display: block;
}
```

```
#header .yuimenu ul
{
  position: relative;
  right: 0;
}
```

```
#header .yui-skin-sam
{
  position: absolute;
}
```

Actually, one more question. How would I make the width of the menu span across the entire page? Thanks!

Try to replace the next CSS rule:

```
#header .yui-skin-sam
{
  position: absolute;
}
```

with:

```
#header .yui-skin-sam
{
  position: relative;
}
```

Ah, you guys are the best. Last two questions.

1. Is there a way to get rid of this space on the right hand side?
2. What is the CSS to center align the text?

Thanks so much for all your help!

1. No.
2. Add the next CSS rules:

```
#header .yui-skin-sam ul li a.yuimenuaritemlabel {
  padding-right: 10px !important;
}
```

```
body #header .yui-skin-sam ul li a.yuimenuaritemlabel-hassubmenu { padding-right: 20px !important;
}
```

I am looking to center the ari-soft in the following menu-position-1 bee5 joomla 1.6.4
<http://prospectmarketing.com/rwm/>

even better would be to fill the white space 1050px

Try to use the next CSS rules:

```
#ariext92_container
{
  text-align: center !important;
}
```

```
body UL#ariext92
{
  position: relative;
  display: inline-block;
  width: auto;
}
```

You can set specific width for main menu items. Information about HTML layout and CSS classes of the menu can be found here.

Hi

This has brought back my menu and made it full width but it is now very narrow. I can't find where to make the menu deeper.

Yes please. I have not looked in the safe_menu.css as the update will not have affected any of the Ari files? I want to add padding but not loose the divider being full height of the menu.

Add the following CSS rule:

```
#header A.yuimenubaritemlabel
{
padding-top: 6px !important;
padding-bottom: 6px !important;
}
```
