hey,

your Menu module seems to be great and i would like to use it on a website. since i code my own themes, the include of the .js scripts does not work.

could you please tell me which files i have to include to use the menu module?

you can see the website progress (i just started) unter

Hello,

The extension includes all necessary javascript and CSS files automatically. Only check that your template file contains the following code:

the head was included, but the space at the end of the code was missing

it was:

and it should be

such a little mistake with such big complications
