menu and sub-menu
Posted by propolis - 2010/08/11 21:22

Hi,

I have main menu buttons and some of these buttons have sub-menus

When I hover over a main menu button, I see all the submenus under the main button, and when clicking any of the submenus, I go of to where the article or link is taking me to.

Where the menu button has sub-menus, how do I disable / stop the main menu button accepting a click.

Hope this makes sense

Eddie

Hello,

Create main menu items with 'Separator' menu item type.

Hi,

I am not having any luck with this

Please look at SSC

The first Menu Button is SSC with 7 sub-menu buttons. Now when you hover over SSC you will see the sub menus appear, and now while still hovering over SSC click the mouse button and see the result.

This is the same for the 7th sub-menu who itself has sub-menus.

How do I get around the issue where if a button has submenus and you click it it should take no action because it has sub-menus.

I am not sure that the seperator will do what I want it to do unless I am doing it wrong

If you provide temporary access to your Joomla! backend by email we can investigate this issue and try to help.

Hello,

'SSC' menu link was assigned with not existing article 'Example Pages and Menu Links' because link for this menu item was broken. We changed type of this menu item and set it to 'Separator' and now it works.
