Menu behind iFrame
Posted by propolis - 2010/09/02 07:51

Hi,

On one of my sites pages I have an iFrame.

Now when I select a menu button that has a sub menu, it goes behind the iFrame and I cant see the menu

See attached image

http://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/menu_iframe_issue.jpghttp://cyber-plaza.co.uk/menu_iframe_issue.jpg

==========

Re:Menu behind iFrame
Posted by admin - 2010/09/02 07:57

Hello,

Provide link to page where we can see this issue that we can help.

Regards,
ARI Soft

==========

Re:Menu behind iFrame
Posted by propolis - 2010/09/02 08:11

Thanks for the response.

From the SSC menu dropdown select 'Sailing Water'

Now select from the SSC dropdown menu 'Where to Stay' and then you can see the problem

Here is the link: SSC

Eddie

==========

Re:Menu behind iFrame
Posted by admin - 2010/09/02 08:26

This problem with flash object from page which is loaded into iframe. It doesn't contain wmode="transparent" attribute.

Regards,
ARI Soft

==========

Re:Menu behind iFrame
Posted by propolis - 2010/09/02 09:15

Hi,

Thanks for the information.

Tried it but it did not work. I then looked at samles on the internet and realised where I had to add it.

The way I am using the iFrame is that I am embedding another sites .html page that runs the object on that page.

So I think I will have to get the actual object file itself, only we dont know who owns the site as the person who owned it emmigrated to OZ 3 years ago

Anyway thanks for helping on this

:(

==========