How to change the width on the menu
Posted by maorlast - 2010/11/02 14:31
_____

I want to change the width of the top menu to 150px and make the sub-menus with the same width size.

Notice that i also want to align everything to the right because this is RTL

I must say that I totaly appreciate your help solving all my previous questions!

Do you want to set 150px size for each menu item?

yes.
about 150px for every item, including the submenus (it might be more than 150px because maybe some submenus of mine are bigger than 150px)

so whatever fits me as long as it will be well-aligned

Thanks

Try to use the following CSS rules:

```
body DIV#top_menu DIV.yui-skin-sam .yuimenubar ul li a.yuimenubaritemlabel
  width: 150px;
  text-align: right;

body DIV#top_menu DIV.yui-skin-sam .yuimenubar ul li .yuimenu ul li a.yuimenuitemlabel
{
  width: 140px;
}
```

This looks great in FF however i am having issues with IE7

Can you take a look please?

(this is exactly what i wanted except of the IE7 problem)

_____

Add the next CSS rule:

body DIV#top_menu DIV.yui-skin-sam .yuimenubar ul li.yuimenubaritem-selected {
  *width: 180px;
}
```
