
Submenu hidden behind horizontal menu

Posted by amjin - 2014/02/07 15:44

When my page is viewed on a smaller device (responsive) the horizontal menu wraps to the next line. Then part of the submenu from the top line is hidden behind the second line.

Shrink the browser window to the size of a mobile phone screen and you will see the affect. The first level of the submenu is hidden behind the wrapped line. View it here:

How can I correct this?

I found the following code in another post.

UL.ux-menu-sub
z-index: 20001 !important;
margin-top: -1px;
```

I pasted it in the CSS Styles entry in the module. It seems to work now.
