
Dropdown menu dissapears behind flash module

Posted by stephruth - 2010/06/11 08:47

Hi, sorry to ask this question again, I know it has been answered a few times in the forum. However none of the solutions have worked for me, I think it's because I am using the Flash Module which has a php file instead of html, so the 'transparent' fix is not working, nor the css fixes.

URL is: <http://www.insanepokercrew.com/>

I have had to disable the flash in the meantime, but it normally sits directly under the menu in the content area below. Any help would be greatly appreciated.
