Hello,

Could you say in what browser you have this problem, it seems in FireFox the menu looks as you want?

In firefox, As you can see in the pic the "products" is centered in the menu area I would like it the be aligned all the way left. And I would like to make the whole bar to be 972px wide.

Try to add the following CSS rules:

.s5_nicewrap_innerl .s5_nicewrap_innertop
{
padding-left: 0;
}

#s5_breadcrumbs #s5_breadcrumbsinner
{
 padding-left: 0;
}

.ux-menu LI A.ux-menu-link-first
{
  padding-left: 5px;
}

.ux-menu LI LI A.ux-menu-link-first
{
  padding-left: 16px;
}
