

---

Help me find the proper file for {UserScore}

Posted by balulilu - 2010/05/22 20:44

---

Hello people,

I've been looking for class, function or what ever is there that generates number for {UserScore} I don't want to show {UserScore} / {MaxScore} I want to show name of group.

I just want to find class where that algorithm is and instead of returning number, place that number in switch and return the name of group in which the student is assigned by his grade.

for example:

```
switch ( $UserScore )
{
    case 1:
        return "starter";
        break;
    case 2:
        return "intermediate";
        break;
    case 3:
        return "upper-intermediate";
        break;
    case 4:
        return "advance";
        break;
}
```

so that, when I'll use {UserScore} in text template it will show the name of group not the grade.

thank you in advance and sorry for disturbing

sincerely Irakli Amaghlobeli

=====

---

Re:Help me find the proper file for {UserScore}

Posted by admin - 2010/05/22 20:58

---

Hello,

You can open /administrator/components/com_arquiz/kernel/Controllers/class.ResultController.php file, find method 'getFinishedResult' (line #195), add new predefined variable for text templates into $obj array and then use it in text templates.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====