
Images and thumbnails

Posted by mmcl - 2010/01/18 22:11

Can you use large images (192 x 133) as thumbnails?
Will articles containing simply one large iamge work and slide correctly?

I am trying to replace a troublesome image slider module and yours seems the most promising so far...
Attached is an image of what I am trying ot acheive...

Thanks,

Hello,

Currently the module can work with thumbnails which have width of less than 60 pixels and height of less than 45 pixels, but you can submit feature request here and we'll improve this functionality in one of the future releases. Regarding large images, yes, you can use only these in article and it'll work correctly or you can use large images as intro text and type in full text additional information which user will see if click by large image.
