
Replace Filename in Lightbox from Flickr

Posted by olgascreations - 2011/01/31 04:22

Hi,

I have the plugin pulling photos from a number of sets in flickr. I use a long coded filename to keep track of my photos. When a photo is viewed in the lightbox it is displaying the coded filename. This isn't something that I want to expose on my Joomla site.

Is there a way to either 1) suppress this from displaying in the lightbox, or preferably 2) replace this with a static string of text?

It seems that some of my clients aren't smart enough to realize that if you click the arrows it will move you through the photoset. I'd love to be able to put a message "click the arrows to see more photos in this set" or something similar.

Thanks,
Marc

=====

Re:Replace Filename in Lightbox from Flickr

Posted by admin - 2011/01/31 12:14

Download extension package and upgrade "ARI Sexy Lightbox" module and "System - ARI Sexy Lightbox Anywhere" plugin please. New version of the extension contains new parameter "Caption", it is used that specify caption which will be shown in lightbox. You can specify necessary static string in this parameter or add caption="click the arrows to see more photos in this set" attribute to {arisexylightbox} tag.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Replace Filename in Lightbox from Flickr

Posted by olgascreations - 2011/01/31 12:22

You guys are awesome. I work for an Enterprise software company and wish that we could be as responsive to our customers enhancement requests!

I wish I did more web design so that I could offer your products to a wider audience. I look forward to finding ways to use your other components in my projects. Thanks so much!

Where are you guys located? Just curious.

=====

Re:Replace Filename in Lightbox from Flickr

Posted by admin - 2011/01/31 12:32

You are welcome. We are glad to see happy customers :)

Regards,
ARI Soft