
Showing inline content from Database

Posted by PaulErik - 2012/12/08 08:32

Hi,

I am using ARI Data Tables and must say it is really nice plugin.

Now I have created a table on my website, which is retrieving data from a db via a sql query. Since the database table has pretty much info, I don't want to show all thos details in the table on my website. Rather I would like to have something like a pop up box in order to show full details for that specific row. Is there any ARI Soft (or other) plugin which allows me to create something like that?

Thanks a lot for letting me know!

Hello,

You can read how to show secondary table with details here.

If you want to show table with details into a lightbox, it is possible to do with help of ARI Sexy Lightbox extension.

Regards,
ARI Soft
