

---

Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by aczdreign - 2013/09/25 18:20

---

Hi, I'm just wondering if there's any convenient way to format the lightbox content to match the website behind it.
(Example: bottom contact button vs top contact menu item. they point to the same form but are formatted differently)

Also, how would I go about having the main menu 'contact' link open in a lightbox?

www.foxmandigital.com
guest:guest1234

=====

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by admin - 2013/09/26 05:46

---

Hello,

Use "ARI Sexy Links" plugin to show "Contact" menu item into the lightbox. For this configure and enable plugin and set "" parameter to the following value:

"UL.nav LI.item-156 A"|width=500&height=80%&tmpl=component

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by aczdreign - 2013/09/26 14:40

---

Assuming that you meant to set "Elements CSS selectors" of "ARI sexy links" with the provided code, this does not work.

=====

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by admin - 2013/09/26 14:44

---

When we click by "Contact" menu item in left column, it opens into the lightbox.

What browser do you use?

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by aczdreign - 2013/09/26 14:46

---

Okay, I hadn't checked that one (the menu item on the left column), that one DOES work. Now, I need it to also apply to the contact menu item on the other iteration of the main menu, across the top.
These two menus are the same, just displayed twice due to the vertical length of the homepage.

EDIT: Firefox browser, also chrome

---

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by admin - 2013/09/26 14:51

---

Add also the following code to "Elements CSS selectors" parameter on a new line:

"UL.gf-menu LI.item156 A"|width=500&height=80%&tmpl=component

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by aczdreign - 2013/09/26 14:55

---

Beautiful! Thank you!

Now, about formatting the lightbox? It doesn't seem to inherit the default formatting from my template. Is there any way to adjust this?

Also, my reCaptcha forms are coming up mis-aligned. I spoke with RSForms, and discovered that this is because of a "line-height: 1.7em;" paramater within my template.

I would imagine that these two issues are related, I basically need to know how to pull in the template layout, and then override a template setting within the lightbox.

Thank you for your help thus far, and if I'm in the wrong place or asking too much about the template, I apologize.

EDIT: Basically, the problem is that it seems to be pulling in the line spacing from the template, but not the font or colors. I need the opposite.

=====

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by admin - 2013/09/26 14:57

---

The lightbox shows external pages using "component" ("print") mode of site template (in this mode only component output is loaded without header, footer and other elements). It seems your site template uses different styles for "component" mode and normal mode.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by aczdreign - 2013/09/26 14:59

---

Great, that's just what I needed to continue my investigation.

Thank you again for your assistance!

=====

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by aczdreign - 2013/09/26 15:00

---

I assume there's no way to change my lightbox to display in normal mode, then, right?

=====

---

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by admin - 2013/09/26 15:06

---

Remove "tmpl=component" code from "Elements CSS selectors" parameter.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Menu lightbox/Formatting lightbox content

Posted by aczdreign - 2013/09/26 15:16

---

solved, thank you!

=====