
iframe align

Posted by peterva - 2011/02/21 20:01

I'm using the colorbox anywhere plugin to show remote content.

This works fine, but I'd like to set the vertical-align for the iframe to 'top'.

Is there a place where I can do that? I tried editing jquery.colorbox-min.js but this works only for the first instance, and then not anymore. Thanks for helping out.

=====

Re:iframe align

Posted by admin - 2011/02/21 20:05

Hello,

Could you specify for what you want to set vertical-align, for content in iframe? Probably you can provide screenshot where we can see what exactly do you mean?

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:iframe align

Posted by peterva - 2011/02/21 20:13

When the external site opens, I scrolls to the middle because its content is longer than my iframe. <http://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/screen1.png>

=====

Re:iframe align

Posted by peterva - 2011/02/21 20:14

I want the page to start at the top by setting the vertical-align for the iframe to 'top'.
<http://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/screen2.png>

=====

Re:iframe align

Posted by admin - 2011/02/21 21:34

Scroll is caused in remote page. You can see it if try to open remote page into a browser, it will be scrolled when page is loaded. The extension can't change scroll position because document from another server is loaded into iframe and javascript doesn't provide ability to work with remote document due to security reason.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:iframe align

Posted by peterva - 2011/02/22 11:49

ok thanks

=====

