hight and width question

Posted by terrycm - 2010/04/30 02:00

I am attempting to launch a website using the ARI pretty photo lightbox. I want to know if it is possible to have the lightbox auto size to fill the users screen. If I set specific parameters like 1800 width 1400 height for example it will not look right on a screen resolution set at 1200x900 for example. Is there a way to set a parameter for either auto size, or to a percent of the viewable screen say 90%?

Thank you,
-Terry

Hello,

'ARI Pretty Photo' fits content to screen size and provide icon for showing content in original size. This is not happening on your site? Could you provide link where we can see it?

Sorry I didn't clarify I am attempting to display a web page not an image in ARI Pretty Photo. My website currently displays my virtual tours in the rokbox lightbox as seen here www.regal360.com. I was hoping to switch to your ARI Pretty Photo but having to set the width and height and not merely a percentage of the screen I have no way of anticipating the optimal size for my viewers. Are there any options for me that I am unaware of?

We have updated the extension. Now it can accept dimension parameters for showing external pages as absolute values or in percent. Download the extension in 'Member Area' on our site and upgrade 'ARI Pretty Photo' module. For you case, type in 'Width' and 'Height' parameter '90%'.

I understand that I can set the width and height in percent (%) in the URL, but in 'Plug-in Manager: System - ARI Pretty Photo' it seems to only accept pixels and not percent...

I would like to have the width and height options in 'Plug-in Manager: System - ARI Pretty Photo' to be set as a percentage (or even better, any combination like width 1000px and height 100%) is this possible?

Regards,

Bruce.

Will the module affect how the plugin operates?

In brief, yes. The module contains core files so don't copy them with each plugin.
