We are attempting to create quizzes but we do not have the answers yet. Basically they are predictions or guesses. The answers will be known at a future date and then entered and scored.

See <http://www.microbusinessfanatic.com/showdown/current-biz>

ARI Quiz is the perfect component for what we want to accomplish but it looks like we are stuck without having a current answer.

Is there any possible work around or idea for this dilemma?

Hello,

ARI Quiz doesn't support the possibility which you described. It requires that administrator choose correct answer(s) during creating of question.
