
How to Become a Millionaire style

Posted by modusoperandi - 2015/04/21 07:35

i would replace the "single question" style (now have radio buttons) with a new style similar to tv quiz...user should touch directly his answer and all the answers should have "button" style.

when user touch his answer then the button change color is it possible?

would be great if someone could give me the css style n tell me where replace it.

thanx. M.

Hello,

We sent un-minified version of /components/com_arquiz/assets/js/questions.js file and indicated that it required to edit "getRadioViewHtml" method in AQ.questions.SingleQuestion object.

If you specify what version of the extension you use, we will send questions.js file to you.

my problem is that until now my buttons arent really clickable but just a style, so i need to show the radio button until now to let the user to choose his answer or the quiz wont work...tell me pls if there is a simple way to modify my question.js to have this mod or send me an email in pvt if this is a custom mod and send me a quote. tnx if u need the url of the site ask n i will send u by email

hi, could you please elaborate how to implement this question form ?
do i need to copy the code from the questions.js which you sent to me to the old version of questions.js?

thanks

It is just an original version of javascript file which you can modify for your needs. By default the file is minified to decrease size.

We can also implement this feature for you as a custom development.
