
Random questions + Mandatory one

Hi.

I've got this problem I need to solve.

There is a quiz. I've got two categories of questions for that quiz, which form the bank of questions (about 100). I want users to get 15 random questions from one category and 1 random question from another. But I can't come up with an idea of how to manage this. It seems like I can either let users get random questions, or all questions from the bank. Is there any solution?

Hello,

On question category settings page is possible to define how many question should be selected from the category. Use "Question count" parameter for this purpose. You can set it to 15 for "Category 1" and to 1 for "Category 2".

Thank you very much, it works.

I guess I just got confused with Bank, Bank Category, Quiz Category, Question Category stuff, I suppose I need to read the documentation once again to figure it all out. Thanks.
