
New quest dont show/deleted question still there

Posted by Forex_Master - 2009/01/17 10:00

I don't have cache activated on my website.

I had one quizz question only. I deleted this quizz question, then newly opened my website, and the quizz question is still there.

I added a new question, went on my website and the quizz question is not there.

I wonder if the quizz module is caching somewhere the questions ?

Can I delete them manually ?

Update: After deleting the question, I created a new one, it took a few minutes to display on the website, but finally it was displayed, and guess what....the old question was displayed ?!

So basically I am stuck with the very first question I have created regardless any new question I create.

Must be a problem somewhere in the Ari quizz database ? I really don't know how to solve that on my own, please help

My credentials have been provided in a previous message below.

Most probably you started passing quiz and have not completed. Just complete the quiz and start new one and updated quiz will be used.
