
Read more link won't display

Posted by jgribble - 2011/11/23 19:02

Hi, I used the suggested code in the template parameters, but the "read more" button embedded in my articles still will not display or work. The site is javdevelop.com. I also want to remove the bullet, but there doesn't seem to be an easy way in the control panel.

Hello,

A bullet is added by site template styles. Add the next CSS rule to avoid it:

.es-wrapper UL LI
  background-image: none !important;

About read more link, could you specify what code do you use?

Sorry, but this does not work. The bullet is still there. To try to get the "read more" to work, I put this code in the template field, following the documentation instructions that comes with the module.

{ $introtext }
{ $readmore_link }

It just produces gibberish, unfortunately.

If you would like to have a quick look, I'd be happy to let you in the back end.

Thanks,

About bullet, do you mean bullet at top-left position? If yes, provided CSS rule should help to remove it. If you provide temporary access to your J! backend we will help to add necessary CSS rule.

About read more link, { $readmore_link } predefined variable contains a link, not a HTML code for an anchor tag. If you want to create HTML hyperlink, use the next code:

Again, I am sorry to report that neither of these solutions worked. I will e-mail you the back-end access.

It worked when I refreshed the page. Seemed to be exactly as I envisioned. But when I clicked to an inside page it reverted back to not working. I did not change anything in the module parameters. I think we are really close!

We configured the extension correctly previous time, but now incorrect values "CSS Styles" and "Template" parameters again. We corrected it again.

My apologies. I had left the control panel open on my computer. I didn't think to close out without saving changes, thus inadvertently saving the old, cached settings.

It is working beautifully now. I think I see what I was doing wrong.
