
pagination issues - scroll to top and reset.

Hi, would there be a reason for pagination not to return to the top of the table when accessing the next set of results? I've resorted to trying a jQuery script to scroll to the top, but not having much success, it works but I'm getting a datatable warning. Does anyone else have this issue? I'm using the Smoothness UI theme. Here's the code I (sort of) got working jQuery(document).ready(function() { var dataTable = jQuery('#at_386_wrapper').dataTable({

        iDisplayLength: 20,
        sPaginationType: "paging_full_numbers"
    });
    function paginateScroll() {
        jQuery('html, body').animate({
            scrollTop: jQuery(".at_386_wrapper").offset().top }, 100);
        console.log('pagination button clicked');
        jQuery(".ui-button").unbind('click', paginateScroll);
        jQuery(".ui-button").bind('click', paginateScroll);
    }
    paginateScroll();
});
```

Hello,

Could you provide a link to a page where the code is used?

Thanks for your reply. An example URL is <http://fujitsugeneral.kiwiwebz.co.nz/where-to-buy-home>. If you click the map to the left on Auckland or Christchurch, the pagination appears below the results. Click "Last" or "2" etc, and there's no scroll to the header. Also, the pagination selection does not reset to the 1st results of you change the search i.e. if you're on page "2" of the results, the next search results for a new search start at page "2". The site is development right now, I'm delighted with what I've achieved with ari-datatables, but I'd rather use working pagination if I could. Thanks!

I have NOT left the JQuery code shown above in the site for now, I don't think it's a great idea in general to do the scroll to top that way if it's possible to do so natively I've simply got a setting wrong in the module.

The extension doesn't have an option which provides ability to move to the top of a table when page is changed.
