
Is-it possible to sort Table from a drop dow data?

Posted by crazyden - 2017/06/21 12:47

I would know if is it possible to create a ARI DATA TABLE from a table in my data base of joomla select by a drop down menu?

This drop down menu should be extract of one column's table

I had seen that on this page on your site here :

http://www.demo2.ari-soft.com/joomla-data-tables.html?_

and under "Example" to select a different "theme"!

Best regards

Hello,

The module doesn't support this ability, but if you want to use dynamically created SQL query in the module depends on a request parameter, it is possible to create a drop-down outside the module and use "Module Plant" or similar extension to set "SQL query" dynamically depends on the selected value in drop-down. This solution requires a little PHP knowledge.

Hello,

Thanks for your answer.
I'll try to understand how to do your solution

I hope this possibility will be integrated in a new version of your program ;)

Best regards
