Hello,

HTML code can be placed in the description. If you want to change position of description area, it requires modification of the extension.

Hello,

Certainly, I could make changes to a plug-in, but in this case I won't be able to update it.
For a solution it is enough to enter the additional parameter for module entering an element name in which to place the text, something like this:

document.getElementByName('id_of_description_placeholder').innerHTML = 'text_of_description'; in javascript function, which animates slideshow.

If additional parameter is empty, description places to title parameter of image tag.

I think this is not difficult for you and may be useful for other people.

Peter
