
Parsing error with ini file

Posted by rowby - 2010/08/07 01:39

Hi

I'm getting this error in the display:

Error parsing /home/belwoodb/public_html/images/stories/slides/ariimageslider.ini on line 2 in /home/belwoodb/public_html/modules/mod_ariimageslider/mod_ariimageslider/kernel/Utils/class.AppUtils.php on line 34

Here's the site:

<http://belwoodbakerycafe.com/>

Any suggestions?

When I remove the ini file it goes away. Attached is a copy of the ini file. I renamed the extension txt because the forum doesn't allow ini extensions.

Thanks!

I think the problem was the included "!" "!" --- when I removed the exclamations the errors went away.

Is there a way to include an "escape" in the ini file so that I can include an exclamation mark?

Or perhaps this could be "fixed" in an update. Exclamation marks are nice to have in a description.

Hello,

INI files provide possibility to use "!" character. Just quote necessary message with ". You can read about it in this post.
