
SexyLightbox not using custom CSS

Posted by pellinim - 2014/08/01 12:14

Dear all,

I tried unsuccessfully finding a previous post about the problem I'm experiencing.

I just get Cloud Carousel PRO and I integrated it with SexyLightbox; my wish is to show in a lightbox an inline article.

Everything works fine with the carousel, but the content of the article is not shown formatted as I want.

Those articles contain a table using some classes defined in a CSS file containing all my customization.

If I open it normally, the shape is correct; when opened clicking an image of the carousel is shown ignoring my custom.css file.

Any idea? Did I forget some configuration?

Thanks for your help,

Mario

=====

Re:SexyLightbox not using custom CSS

Posted by admin - 2014/08/01 12:20

Hello,

Probably your site template uses different styles for standard view and component view. Could you provide the link to the article and to page with the carousel so we can investigate this issue in more details?

Regards,

ARI Soft

=====

Re:SexyLightbox not using custom CSS

Posted by pellinim - 2014/08/01 12:43

Hello,

my site is still offline, as I'm concluding the configuration.

How can I contact you with a PM for sending an account for login in?

Thanks

Mario

=====

Re:SexyLightbox not using custom CSS

Posted by admin - 2014/08/01 12:45

You can send it by email.

Regards,

ARI Soft

=====