
Arrows gone with template change

Posted by bubberz - 2011/03/30 04:53

Hi!

I just switched templates and my large left/right arrows are gone when the user mouses over that edges of the pages...it was working with a RocketTheme template, but now is not with a YooTheme template, Vanilla.

<http://www.funphonics.com/index.php/books/book-01-jan-and-pam/flipbook>

I tried changing the ZIndex to 1000, and that didn't help.

I turned off caching, and that didn't help either.

=====

Re:Arrows gone with template change

Posted by admin - 2011/03/30 05:41

Hello,

This is not a problem with "z-index" property. This problem with "overflow: hidden" property in site template. The problem can be fixed if add the next CSS rule to "CSS Styles" parameter in module settings:

```
body DIV.wrapper
{
  width: 1100px;
}
```

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Arrows gone with template change

Posted by bubberz - 2011/03/31 04:17

Thanks...that worked!

=====

Re:Arrows gone with template change

Posted by incept - 2011/08/18 15:51

I cant seem to get the arrows to appear on my (custom) template. Any suggestions.

<http://ecotampa.com/ten>

Thanks

=====

Re:Arrows gone with template change

Posted by admin - 2011/08/18 18:55

Hello,

This problem with site template styles. Add the next CSS rules that fix the problem:

```
#social_media .nivo-directionNav a
{
display: block;
float: none;
margin: 0;
width: 32px;
}
```

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Arrows gone with template change

Posted by incept - 2011/08/18 19:29

Thank You!! :woohoo:

=====