
Unwanted horizontal scrollbar

Posted by theant - 2013/12/19 15:05

Hello

using ARI DOCS Viewer on a J! 3.2.1 site

this is the code I used:

```
{aridoc width="600" height="400"}images/presentazioni/presentazioneSGCP-01.pdf{/aridoc}
```

the default engine is Google, I see the document but it uses vertical (ok) and horizontal scrollbars. The horizontal one is not necessary, can I remove it?

You can see the page here:

<http://www.patriziacatellani.com/new/it/notizie/3-notizia-03.html>

thanks

=====

Re:Unwanted horizontal scrollbar

Posted by admin - 2013/12/19 15:23

Hello,

The document is loaded without a horizontal scrollbar on our side:

<http://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/doc.png>

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Unwanted horizontal scrollbar

Posted by theant - 2013/12/19 15:48

Very interesting.

I get the scrollbars on Mac 10.6.8 (Firefox and Chrome) and on Win (XP Pro and 8.1) with Explorer and Firefox. On Win XP and 8.1 Chrome I don't get the presentation at all, only a white space.

http://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/Schermata_2013_12_19_a_16.png

=====

Re:Unwanted horizontal scrollbar

Posted by admin - 2013/12/19 18:11

Document is rendered by Google Docs service and scrollbar appears in code which is generated by Google service. According to code which is generated by Google Docs, this is a problem with link to "www.sgcp.it" page on the first page.

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====