
arijdatatable Scrollable?

Posted by mattpark - 2009/03/01 17:13

Hi Team,

I'm using aricsvtable to pull a large amount of data in to a html table, works a treat. The problem i have now is that the table generated is actually very wide, and wont fit on the page...

Wrapping the table with arijdatatable seems to do everything i need, apart from scrolling! I'm looking for horizontal scrolling specifically, pagination can take care of a large amount of vertical data.

Do you know of any way that i can do this at all?

Many thanks,

Matt

Hi,

Thanks for your response.

The page we are using it on is here -> <http://shorl.com/vastodrejmaka>

The content actually has many more columns that don't fit on to the page.

Any ideas?

You can wrap data table with tag:

{arijdatatable}
...
{/arijdatatable}

sorry for that, the project are under development.

but I get a piture: <http://img521.imageshack.us/img521/5626/aribug1.jpg> look: the horizontal Scroll.

when we roll, only internal part of Grid rolls.
the Orange area is fixed.

do you have some suggestion to solve that?

thanks in advance.

Currently the plugin doesn't support scroll feature, it is supported by "ARI Data Table" widget from ARI Data Tables extension.

Scroll feature will be added to "ARI JDataTable" plugin into a future release.
