Hello,

It will be compatible with J! 1.6 within 4-5 days.

I need to work on a site this weekend and have ready for demo Monday.

So, can i buy a few of the modules that are ready for J! 1.6 today and then when your Smart Content is ready, am I allowed to pay the difference and buy the wholoe package?

Sorry, but it is not possible. Plugins from "ARI Smart Content" component can't work without the component.

Is the J!1.6 Smart Content ready yet?

If it is, how much is it?

I guess people from ARI did a typo at the post (2 monthss ago):

It will be compatible with J! 1.6 within 4-5 days.

They mean really 4-5 weeks or maybe MONTHS!! What a terrible support team. Bravo!!!

:angry:

I have heard that J1.6/J1.7 extensions are very different from J1.5 extensions.

Smart Content has a large number of dependencies among components.

Given the number of extensions, it is possible that development takes too much time for all components.

I see J!1. 7 components with the same Smart Content names and syntax on sale under different brands, but do not know their origins.

Maybe the SmartContent developers may decide to release what has been developed this far ?

That's great.

I am looking forward to loading it.
