
Menu Item using alias causes 404 error.

Posted by jpower - 2010/01/15 18:21

Trying to use the alias function within Joomla 1.5.14 for a ARI YUI menu item and I'm getting a 404 Component not found message?????

I need to redirect a menu item to another article within my site and this same error message keep occurring. If I move the menu item to another location that is using the standard mod_mainment module it works fine.

What do I have to change within ARI YUI to automatically have menu link redirect to another article when selected?

btw - the site is an internet company Intranet.

Any assistance would be appreciated.

James

Hello,

Do you use the latest version of the module? We have tried to reproduce this issue on our test server, but we can't to do it. Everything work fine.

Hello,

Could you provide link to page where we can see the problem and temporary access to your Joomla! backend by email that we can investigate the problem?

The error occurs because currently the module doesn't support alias for menu item from another menu. It will be fixed in "ARI YUI Menu" v. 2.0. New version of the module will be ready within a week.
