
Sub menu repeats top graphic at the end

Posted by merete - 2011/02/15 15:08

Hi

The sub menus seem to repeat at the end a part of the background image of the main menu. How can I stop this? This also causes the submenu items to have a large gap between them which looks awful! Thanx!!

Hello,

Where we can see this issue?

I also just noticed the menu doesn't seem to work in the IE at all, only in firefox...

Why could this be?

This problem with site template styles. Add the following CSS rules that fix it:

```
#pillmenu ul.ux-menu-sub
{
    padding: 0;
}
```

```
#pillmenu ul li
{
    height: 40px;
}
```

```
#pillmenu ul.ux-menu-sub li
{
    background-image: none;
    height: auto;
}
```

}

Ok, thanks that worked fine!!

How about the IE issue? Nothing seems to work there!

It works fine in IE 8, for IE 7 try to add the following CSS rule:

```
#pillmenu .ux-menu-container ul.ux-menu-sub li
{
    height: 39px;
}
```

No this doesn't help, it still doesn't work in IE 7. What else can I try?

Try the next:

```
#pillmenu .ux-menu-container ul.ux-menu-sub li a
{
    height: 39px;

I am not sure if you mean additionally or instead of the previous code? Anyhow I tried adding the "a" and it worked for a short time BUT after I reloaded i saw less than before, the drop downs didn't even appear. How can this be?!?

When we open provided link from previous post, the menu works fine in IE 7. Try to clean browser cache. If it doesn't help, you can investigate menu styles with help IEDevToolbar addon for IE 6 - 7 browsers.
