Buttons show up based on logon?

Hello,

Is it possible to have certain buttons show up based on the registered visitor's rights?

My main menu has some items that are rights specific and will only show up if you log onto the site as a member of that group. I set this up so certain photo albums are only accessible by family I put in a "family" group. The whole thing works fine with the default menu in Joomla, but I cannot get the ARI Ext Menu exhibit same behavior.

Is this a limitation of the software or something I'm doing wrong?

Hello,

Do you use Joomla! 1.6? If yes, currently the module doesn't support handling of specific user groups. We will implement this ability in a future release.

Yes, it's Joomla 1.6.

Thank for the quick response!
