
menu effects for current page

Posted by kevcpu75 - 2011/03/07 00:58

When the user is on a particular page, I am trying to decorate the parent and child menu items to reflect the page the user happens to be on. I need to be able to decorate the list item as well as the anchor tag. Is this possible? I noticed that the current css class is added to the anchor tag but there is no way to add it to the list item. Are there any alternatives ways to accomplish this?

Hello,

Download and upgrade the module please. New version adds "current" CSS class to "LI" tag for selected menu item as well as for "A" tag.
