
Horizontal Menu width changes with the browser

Posted by sathindra - 2013/08/11 09:17

I adjusted the menu width by changing different items separately. It works with firefox. But in Chrome it is lesser than the site width. And in IE10 menu goes to two rows. Thanks in advance. Here the link <http://eie.ksatconcepts.com/>

Hello,

You specified custom width only for 3 menu items. For other items width is calculate automatically and space which is required for menu items in IE and other browsers are different due to IE renders characters in another way than other browsers. You can read about it here.
