Can't customize menu colors

Posted by Jake_S - 2013/12/19 17:11

I can't customize the menu colors in firefox/chrome. The only color I can change is the background color. The other colors don't give me a circle under my mouse pointer in the color picker tool. It has a weird behavior of changing all of the other colors automatically when I change the background color. Any advise would be greatly appreciated.

Here is me trying to pick a color and failing, you can see I'm dragging the color picker window :blink:

Here is me successfully picking the color of the background

Here is the weird color cloning behavior

Hello,

We can't reproduce the problem. Could you provide a temporary access to your J! backend by email so we can investigate the problem?

I took an Akeeba backup of the site and moved it to our production server and it works... sort of. My guess is that it has something to do with the php version. It works fine in firefox but does something weird in chrome where the color picker circle doesn't line up with the mouse pointer. Here is the setup on the production box

If you want access to this site let me know. I don't think I could get you access to other system as it is a workstation running xampp.

We need to see the problem so we can investigate it. Colors are chosen fine on our test server.
