
Transparent Background

Posted by webbo - 2014/01/16 14:11

Hi,

Is it possible to set the background of the menu to transparent, so it gets the same colour as the main page background?

We're using a gradient background, so can't just set the background to the same colour.

Many thanks,

Ollie

=====

Re:Transparent Background

Posted by admin - 2014/01/16 14:12

Hello,

Where we can see the menu?

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Transparent Background

Posted by webbo - 2014/01/16 14:18

Thanks for the quick reply!

<http://testenv.springfield.uk.net/>

Ollie

=====

Re:Transparent Background

Posted by admin - 2014/01/16 14:19

Do you mean background for selected menu items?

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Transparent Background

Posted by webbo - 2014/01/16 14:31

No, the background for all menu items when they're not being hovered over, so that they match the red background of the page.

I've taken the background colour out now, and the menu just shows up white.

Thanks.

Ollie

=====

Re:Transparent Background

Posted by admin - 2014/01/16 15:00

Add the following CSS rule:

```
.dd-nav .ux-menu LI A.ux-menu-link-level-0
{
background-color: transparent !important;
}
```

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Transparent Background

Posted by webbo - 2014/01/16 15:05

Perfect, thank you for your help.

Ollie

=====

Re:Transparent Background

Posted by webbo - 2014/01/16 15:51

Sorry, I've just seen that with that code, the menu items no longer change colour when they are hovered over. Do you have any advice to fix that?

Many thanks,

Ollie

=====

Re:Transparent Background

Posted by admin - 2014/01/16 16:03

Use the following CSS rule:

```
.dd-nav .ux-menu LI A.ux-menu-link-level-0
{
background-color: transparent;
}
```

instead of:

```
.dd-nav .ux-menu LI A.ux-menu-link-level-0
{
background-color: transparent !important;
}
```

Regards,
ARI Soft

=====

Re:Transparent Background

Posted by webbo - 2014/01/17 07:58

Thank you!

=====