
Some submenu items go out of the screen

Hi,

On a vertical menu, some submenus are so long that a few items cannot be seen - they're off the screen. Can this be fixed somehow i.e. the submenu opening upwards?

Hello,

Add the following CSS rule:

`BODY #dd-main {overflow: visible;}`

Thanks! I still have a bit trouble clicking the items, since when I scroll, the pointer often goes off the main menu item. And many people do not have scrollwheels at all. But that's better than before. I might try to switch some items in the main menu and so on. But thank you! This support here is top-notch! Appreciate it!
