Display submenu items in one horizontal row?

_____

I am attempting to use ARI Ext Menu to create a simple menu containing a single top-level menu item and one submenu level with four items. I need the submenu items to be displayed alongside each other on the same horizontal row as the main item block instead of appearing in a stack below the first submenu item.

If I specify the "vertical" menu direction, the first submenu item does appears exactly where I would like it, but the remainder appear below the first. Is there a way using CSS or modifying the module to force the other three submenu items to line up alongside the first submenu item?

Tbank you.

MENU ITEM -> SUBMENU-ONE SUBMENU-TWO SUBMENU-THREE SUBMENU-FOUR

- all in the same horizontal line

Can you please send me an email address or private IM I can use to forward to you the requested URL? (It's a test page on a live site and I don't want it to be made public.)

Thanks!

Thank you. Sorry, but the extension doesn't support ability to show sub-menus in one line. It works only like on demo page.
