Submenus falling behind other main menus (2nd try)

I have a set of menus in horizontal position. There are a lot of choices (too many actually - working on that)

When viewed on a tablet or narrow screen, the main menu stack (which is fine). However when accessing submenus, those menus appear UNDER the main menu (you can't see them).

Is there a way to keep the submenus on top?

In the example attached, I have selected "HACD NEWS" and the submenus are partially obstructed by the menus that wrapped around.

Other than that, this works great! <http://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/submenu.png>
