Others menus

Hi Dear!

My site is <http://gentedecente.com.br>.

I'm testing your menu in joomla localhost, to implement the site.

Minha pergunta é a seguinte:

How to put two different menus (eg main menu + resources) side by side in the same horizontal line.

I copied the module and set the second menu, but it is below and not next.

Thank you and I enjoyed the simplicity of installation.

Sorry, for my English.

And the error in the topic in portuguese.

Best Regards http://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/Sem\_t\_tulo\_1.gif

Hi Ari!

Thanks for the quick response.

The site that is online and has a significant although visitation in only 20 days.

Do not know if the model would be difficult to try localhost model.

I can configure both menus easily. But I managed to put them next to one another within the container from the first menu (Home).

See the printscreen. http://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/Sem\_t\_tulo\_2.gif

Try to add the following CSS rule:

.ux-menu-container
float: left;

This was my first choice.
But nothing has changed.
The container runs the full length of the page and the second menu appears as a submenu of the home menu ( the first ).
See image. http://www.ari-soft.com/images/fbfiles/images/Sem\_t\_tulo\_3.gif

We can help you if provide link to page where we can see this issue. If you can do it on your site, you can create clone of your site and upload it to another server for testing purpose or create sub-domain on current site.
