
sub menu box cuts off sometimes

Posted by crosswire - 2010/08/21 04:49

I notice on drop down menu, the box on first level cuts off but after refresh it shows up fine.

I cant seem to duplicate the issue but it happens when the page is not touched on screen and you mouse over the menu and notice that the text in menu drop down is cut off and box width shrunk.

when you open the link in new window or browser its fine.

where in the css file can you change the box sizes?

see image below under contact us.

also i cant seem to increase the font size of text in menu.not sure which css file to edit.

Hello,

If you want to define the same width for all sub-menu items, use the next CSS rule:

```
.ux-menu-container .ux-menu .ux-menu-sub LI
  width: 150px !important;

'ARI Ext Menu' javascript files are included twice on your site, one time with help the module the second time in site template. Remove it from site template if it isn't necessary.
