
Menu glitch

Posted by ckuebler - 2010/09/14 13:33

I have the menu set up horizontally. When I click on one of the links to go to a new page, the menu reverts to a vertical alignment for a second or two then reverts back to the horizontal orientation. I am not sure what is causing this issue. But any help would be greatly appreciated.

Thanks

Hello,

Where we can see this issue?

We suppose this issue can occurred due to module containers in your site template have less width than the menu. You can try to extend width of the containers.

I tried making the width larger, but doesn't seem to do anything.

If you provide temporary access to your Joomla! backend by email we can try to help.
