
dropdown menus padding-top css style

Posted by arvelo - 2010/12/08 20:49

Hi, I love your menus. I want to add a padding-top style to the text in the dropdown menus and can't seem to figure out which style it would be under. Help :) . thanks

Hello,

You can try the following CSS rule:

```
.ux-menu-container .ux-menu LI A
{
padding-top: 15px
}
```

If it doesn't help, provide link to page where we can see menu on your site and screenshot where we can see what you wish to do.

Thanks, but I had already tried that.

My Website link is

<http://www.brushstroke.com/joomla/>

If you look at the dropdowns, they have a vertical alignment at the top. I need to give them about 5px padding-top to bring them down. That is all. They are perfect otherwise.

Thanks so much.

Add the following CSS rule:

.ux-menu-container UL.ux-menu-sub LI a
{
padding-top: 5px;
height: 25px;
line-height: 25px;
}
```

That worked great. Thanks
I love how easy it is to work with your menu.
