
Menu direction

Posted by Vsevedzna - 2014/01/12 16:24

Can you add another direction to the current ones, which are down, and right?. I have a website where the plugin shows the menus on the right side of the page, and I wish that my submenus would open to the left when I hover over menus. Thanks, Patrick

Hello,

This feature is supported by "ARI YUI Menu".

Thanks very much for the immediate support! I have already installed the plugin, but I can't find where the option that lets me choose which side is. Would you mind telling me? Thanks again, Patrick Use "Submenu alignment" parameter. For example if you want to show sub-menus at left side, populate the parameter with the following value:

tr,tl

I have put tr,tl in the submenu alignment, but the arrow is still pointing right, and the submenus also still open on the right. Is there anything else I can do?

It requires modification of the module.
