
Problems with display space of \"ari quiz lite\"

Posted by brugal - 2013/07/25 09:52

i've introduced "ari quiz lite" in a cell of an article by using "ARI Quiz Lite in Content" plug-in. It works well, but the cell is much larger than the space used.

There are some hidden information that makes use more space than is displayed?

What i should do to equate the cell size to the display space of "ari quiz lite"?

Thanks!

Hello,

Where we can see the problem?

it's a web under construction and you need to login with a specific user

web:<http://www.adingo.net.mialias.net/> User:
password:

Thanks

"Additional space" is defined in your site template. It contains the following CSS rule for "#main" element:

#main {
    min-height: 420px;
    padding: 10px 0 20px;
    position: relative;
}
```
